

2020 Title IX Regulations: Policy Implications and Practical Application

The new Title IX regulations have been released, and the expert Title IX team at NACCOP and D. Stafford & Associates has developed a virtual (live instruction) class to guide practitioners through the new regulations and help them understand the institutional and operational impacts.

- Our Title IX team has trained over 3,500 Title IX Coordinators and Investigators across the country and is well-known for delving into the practical application of Title IX.
- The NACCOP/DSA team, comprised of seasoned practitioners, has analyzed the regulations and is poised to help attendees understand the implications to their existing Title IX Sexual Misconduct Policies and how to practically apply the new regulations through both a Title IX and Clery/VAWA lens.
- Cost: NACCOP Members $290; Non Members $340, visit <https://www.naccop.org/title-ix-regs-classes>

NACCOP offers 9 date and time options to provide for flexibility.

⇒ Option 1: Classes are scheduled Monday thru Friday and are broken up into 2.5 hour blocks of instruction at the same time each day.

⇒ Option 2: Classes are held over a 2-day time period, from 10:00-5:00 PM, for those who prefer fewer days, but more instruction each day.

All class times are EDT. Note: Class start and end times take into account a lunch break for the 2-day classes only.

Classes focused on two-year institutions are identified as such.
